What is the Governor's International Business Achievement Awards program?

The International Division was created in 1974 by the Oregon Legislature to assist small to medium sized companies export their products overseas. During the same year, the Division created an award program to show state government and the Governor's support for those companies, organizations and individuals doing business in the international marketplace. It became the state's contribution to World Trade Week events.

Over the years, Oregon exporters have worked hard to gain a reputation for product quality, dependability and integrity in international marketing. The goal of this program is to recognize the importance of international business to the Oregon economy by honoring those who have made a significant contribution to Oregon's position in the global marketplace.

Award Categories

Oregon Exporter of the Year- This award recognizes an Oregon Exporter who has demonstrated innovation in product development, opening new markets, and/or significant increases in export sales.

Global Trader of the Year - This award recognizes contributions made to the Oregon economy by an importer through employment, innovation or new products.

International Service Award of the Year - This award recognizes a firm or organization which has made a significant contribution to the Oregon international trade community through its service.
